Zetoc: The monitoring and search service for global research publications

Welcome to Zetoc. We are one of the world's most comprehensive research databases, giving you access to over 28,500 journals and more than 52 million article citations and conference papers through the British Library's electronic table of contents.

Keeping pace with your peers, staying up to date with new research, and expanding your field of knowledge has never been so simple. We make it easy for you to set-up personalised email Zetoc Alerts or RSS feeds to track the latest articles or journal titles related to your interests. In most cases, you can access abstracts or the full text of articles, depending on your institution's subscription arrangements.

Our service is free for members of Jisc-sponsored UK higher and further education institutions, research councils. Among our subscribers are NHS organisations in England, Scotland and Northern Ireland, and a number of other institutions are also eligible to subscribe.

Zetoc Alert - List "PhD journals" created

A Zetoc Alert list has been created.

It is called PhD journals and will expire on Fri 15 Aug 2014. You should make a note of this name as you will need it if you wish to alter any of the list parameters.

Zetoc Alerts are based on data provided by the British Library.

The information provided in Zetoc Alerts is the property of the individual publishers contributing to the database.

Zetoc Alerts must only be used for the purposes of learning and teaching, research and private study.

You may:

- Compile an internal database for access by your institution's Intranet users.
- Print out Zetoc Alerts and distribute them internally within your institution without formal acknowledgement.

You are not permitted to:

- Allow access to the data to any third party (i.e. anybody who is not studying, or not a member of staff, at your institution).
- Reproduce, retransmit, distribute, disseminate, sell, publish, broadcast or circulate the data for any commercial purpose by any means whatsoever.

The British Library will supply data as soon as possible after the journal/s have been received by the British Library.

The British Library will make all reasonable efforts to ensure that the information provided is free of errors and up to date but makes no guarantee as to the accuracy of the information or its fitness for any purpose whatsoever.

The journals available for Zetoc Alerts are subject to the continuity of their publication. The British Library is not liable for the provision of Zetoc Alerts for any title that might cease publication.

Add journals and/or searches to your Zetoc Alert

The next step is to Add Journals and/or Add Searches for authors and titles.

- Finally, search or browse for relevant journals, "add" them to your list. You can also run regular searches for authors or key words.
- "Add" to your list
