

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY LIBRARY MEDICAL LIBRARY

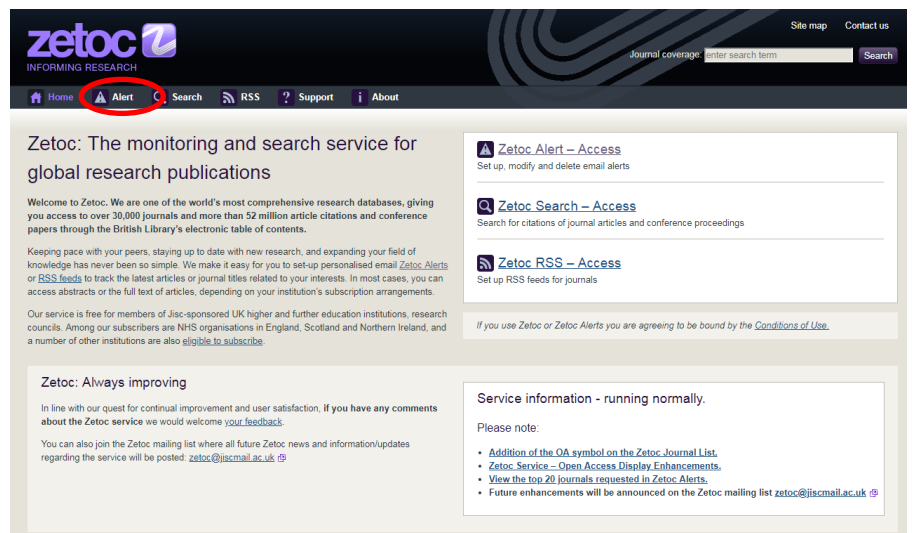

Keeping Up to Date: Zetoc Alerts

Zetoc provides access to the British Library's Electronic Table of Contents (ETOC). The multi-disciplinary database covers 30,000 journals as well as 52 million article citations and conference papers back to 1993, and is updated daily, Zetoc provides search, alert and RSS services.

How?

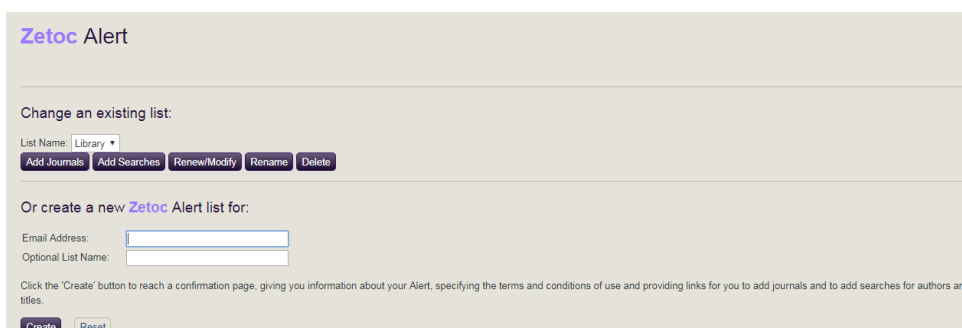

- Go to <http://zetoc.jisc.ac.uk>

- To set up an alert click on Alert.
- You'll need to identify University of Cambridge as your institution (log in with RAVEN if you're not using a University computer).

The screenshot shows the Zetoc website homepage. The navigation menu at the top includes 'Home', 'Alert', 'Search', 'RSS', 'Support', and 'About'. The 'Alert' link is circled in red. The main content area features a welcome message and several sections: 'Zetoc Alert - Access' (Set up, modify and delete email alerts), 'Zetoc Search - Access' (Search for citations of journal articles and conference proceedings), and 'Zetoc RSS - Access' (Set up RSS feeds for journals). There is also a 'Service information - running normally' section with a list of updates.

- To create a new list enter your email address and give your list a name, then click "Create".

The screenshot shows the 'Zetoc Alert' form. It has two main sections: 'Change an existing list:' and 'Or create a new Zetoc Alert list for:'. The first section has a 'List Name' dropdown menu set to 'Library' and buttons for 'Add Journals', 'Add Searches', 'Renew/Modify', 'Rename', and 'Delete'. The second section has an 'Email Address' text input field and an 'Optional List Name' text input field. At the bottom, there are 'Create' and 'Reset' buttons. A small note at the bottom says: 'Click the 'Create' button to reach a confirmation page, giving you information about your Alert, specifying the terms and conditions of use and providing links for you to add journals and to add searches for authors and titles.'

- Once your list has been created you'll see information about the expiry date of your new list. Now you can add journals and/or searches to your list.
